

iv ADVERTISEMENT.

correspond not with those of the original. For the same reason, several strictures upon the writings of Sir Charles Linnaeus, and others, could not be inserted with any degree of propriety; because, upon perusal of the present editions, many of the inaccuracies, which the Count reprehends, have now no existence.

C O N T E N T S.

The Natural History of Man.

|   | Page. |
|---|-------|
| SECT. VI. Of the Sense of Seeing                     | 1     |
| VII. Of the Sense of Hearing                         | 26    |
| VIII. Of the Senses in General                       | 40    |
| IX. Of the Varieties of the Human Species            | 57    |
| A Dissertation on the Nature of Animals              | 208   |
| Of Domestic Animals                                  | 301   |
| The Natural History of the Horse                     | 306   |
| _____ of the Ass                                     | 398   |
| _____ of the Ox                                      | 423   |
| _____ of the Sheep                                   | 461   |
| _____ of the Goat                                    | 486   |
| _____ of the Hog, the Hog of Siam, and the Wild Bear | 500   |