THE GAME

When Referee Fox blows his whistle tonight he turns loose a devastating horde of Red Raiders for a frontal assault upon the Loyola Lions in their own home den.

Highly regarded in their own home state of Texas, the Raiders boast an impressive record for last year, having rolled up a total of over four thousand yards gained on the field with a total of two hundred and forty-one points to one hundred and thirty-one for their combined opponents. In twelve starts they have lost but one game and tied one.

CAPTAIN TYRUS "TY" BAIN
174 Pound Quarterback

Coach Dell Morgan starts a team on the field consisting of a tough, speed burning hombre named "Dunk" Duncan at left end who runs the century in 9.9 and is a ball-hawk on forward passes. At left tackle will be Jack Shanks who last year average 57 minutes per game, one of the fastest men in his position in southwest football. At left guard will be Will Allbright who is touted as a real whirlwind when the heat of battle is at its height. Center will be covered by Ed Irons, the thin man of football, who towers a mere six feet five inches in the center of the line and whose forte is a brilliance in diagnosing plays that has crossed up his opponents repeatedly.

On the right side of the line will be Layce Baillio, line captain, at guard. Last year "Bombshell" took everything Tech's opponents could dish out and breezed through with flying colors. He is a rugged defensive man and a hard-blocking offensive star. At tackle is Warren Cudd, 210 pounds of dynamite who has made off-tackle plays very unpopular on his side of the line. At right end is Clarence Tillery, six feet two inches, who scored six touchdowns and made two conversions last year for 38 of Tech's points.

TONIGHT

Behind the line is Ty Bain at quarterback, captain of the team and touted as one of the hardest and best blockers in the U. S. He is serving his second year as captain and his keen judgment makes him an outstanding field general.

Rogers Smith starts at left half; he has a reputation for hokus-pokus, swivel-hip running. He is a triple-threat man who will be a thorn in the side of the Raiders' opposition this year.

Don Austin at right halfback, lightest man on the squad, is always a touchdown threat from the safety position, as he has several times demonstrated.

Charlie Dvoracek was chosen by every opposing team as their candidate for all-opponent team. He is a ramming, tearing fullback who scored three touchdowns for 18 points and averaged 8 yards every time he carried the ball. He has big legs, stout shoulders, a bull neck, and is frankly the kind of fullback coaches pray for.

All in all it looks like Dell Morgan had some ball team this year and he is prepared to unleash the full power against Loyola.

Marty Brill on the other hand has a team that is just getting under way and is ready to show that it is a real Lion this year and not to be treated lightly. Last week against Santa Clara, one of the first five in the national picture, Loyola battled until the last gun and was carrying the fight to their opponents all the way. Their loss by a score of 20-6 showed that they have plenty of power and a good offensive threat once it gets working.

Vince Pacewic, the find of the year, starts behind the line with Bob Schmidt, Dick Kelley and Mike Carter calling signals. If this combination does not deliver quickly Marty Brill will throw in half a dozen other combinations and the fans should see a lot of faces on the field before the evening is very old.

MEET THREE

By HCL

Being not a whit smaller than he is right now down there on the bench they made a tackle out of their little Dell. He served sixty minutes per game from 1921 to '24 and they still talk of him as the Iron Robot along the main drag in Sherman. "Delicate Dell," tsk, tsk, tsk.

From 1926 to his signing as line coach with the Red Raiders in '30, Morgaan alternately coached high school football teams and played professional baseball with San Antonio. The big fellow's lines became as famous as Mae West's and when they needed some hard charging forwards down Auburn University way, Delicate Dell was called upon to turn the trick back in '35. He resigned in February, 1940, to become line coach at Rice, and this year finds him home giving the orders and taking the complaints.

Burly Berl Huffman is spending his first year as assistant varsity mentor under Morgan. Another husky product of the Lone Star State, Burly created a one-man reign of terror a few years back in the Southwest when Trinity University at Waxahachie, Texas (how'm I doin'), put a quick changing uniform on his back. Today he was carrying a pigskin, tomorrow it would be a basketball and maybe tomorrow night he would be hitting a baseball. Four years — four stars in three major sports. Burly Berl is what is known on the front cover of Esquire as—A MAN.

Huffman started his coaching career with the high

Delicate Dell Morgan. Burly Berl Huffman. Soft-spoken Morley Jennings.

Each, in his own way, has contributed to the color; the excitement; the thrill in store for you this evening. That, of course, is why you should meet them.

"Delicate Dell"—isn't that a honey of a moniker to tack on to 220 pounds of beef? Just to go on the record and you can forget it from this moment on—the official name is John O'Dell Morgan. He's as convincing looking as his name sounds. That football team cruising around this evening is his brain-child.

Delicate Dell is spending his first season at Texas Tech as the head coach, although he served as line mentor with the Red Raiders from 1930 to 1934. It was during his last year that he heard about the Loyola Lions. That, if memory serves right, was the year of the big fog. When the grey stuff lifted in the fourth quarter long enough to see and count twenty-two men on the field, the Lions led 14 to 7 and that's the way it ended.

Austin College at Sherman, Texas, was where Delicate Dell opened his higher education course.

TEXAS STEERS

school in Texas finishing at Lubbock, right at the front door of Texas Tech which he opened several years ago to become freshman football and varsity basketball coach.

That looked kind of sissy for Burly Berl so they dug up another uniform—this time short pants—and knighted him head track coach. So the years rolled by just one football after a basketball after a discus and tonight—presto—Burly Berl is the right bower for Delicate Dell in that forty-four handed game of "scram" going on below you.

Soft-spoken Morley Jennings, the gentleman who swallows the aspirin tablets for the official athletic tummy, makes his debut as Athletic Director. Soft-spoken Morley put an end to a great coaching career when he dropped a note to the officials of Baylor University last season. It was as softly written as the man speaks.

"I've been coaching athletics for 29 years and wish to be relieved."

Cal Coolidge's "I do not choose to run" sounds downright harsh in comparison.

And so Morley Jennings left the banging and battering of the football field to enter the battering and banging of the director's chair. From the frying pan into the fire—I'd say. But soft-spoken Morley only shakes his head and says, "My, it's so quiet where I am now."

The Red Raiders will make three of the longest trips of any football team this season. They will journey to Los Angeles for a game with Loyola; to Miami, Fla., for a set-to with the Miami Hurricanes and then to Charlotte, N. C., for a battle with the Wake Forest Deacons. There is a strong possibility that the Miami and Wake Forest trips will see the Red Raiders traveling by air.

HOME OF TEXAS TECH

Although only in its sixteenth year, Texas Tech this year has 4,246 students and the 2008-acre campus dotted with magnificent buildings of modified Spanish Renaissance architecture creates a scene on the South Plains of Texas which is similar to the elevated plains of Spain, where this type of architecture originated. These buildings are indigenous with this type of country and although the rich historical background of Texas is studded with Spanish influence the relationship blends naturally with the older influences of the state.

Since Lubbock is situated on an elevated plateau or the "caprock" as it is familiarly called the elevation of more than three thousand feet results in an invigorating climate for the South Plains and the fast-moving tempo of this section is increased over the southern sections of the state where the first Spanish settlers located. Instead of the siesta and other Spanish customs, the Spanish architecture of the Texas Tech campus see students hurrying from class to class battling a stiff north breeze and this invigorating climate lends itself to champion athletic teams, alert scholars, competitive activities, and fast-moving environment.

The vision of those who worked for the institution has been more than justified. In fact, Texas Tech has enjoyed a record growth and achievement never surpassed by any college or university in the United States. It is now the third largest school of higher learning in Texas.

An ex-fullback named Phillip McTwiddle Found some tonnage attached to his middle

Said he: "I won't diet,
But Badminton, I'll try it."
And now he's as fit as a fiddle.

P. S. Speed up your game with a Spalding Steel-Shaft
Badminton bat designed by Jack Purcell, the World's Professional Champion.

SETS THE PACE IN SPORTS

(And speaking of today's game, do you know that the famous Spalding J5-V Official Football is used by practically every major college team in the country?)
