Construction Will Soon Be Underway On $3,000,000 Campus Building Program

Plans for construction of five buildings on Texas Tech campus were accepted by the college Board of Directors in their December meeting. Buildings included were the music, engineering, additions to the home economics structure and various agriculture buildings. The Board directed that bids be advertised for construction.

The construction of these buildings is part of a $3,000,000 expansion program on the campus which will take approximately three years to complete, stated Frank Junell, assistant to the president.

Accepted architect plans for the buildings include Walsh and Hazelwood of Amarillo for the music; Wyatt C. Hedrick science; Atcherson and Atkinson of Lubbock engineering; Haynes and Kirby of Lubbock home economics additions. The latter firm will also handle the plans for the new aggie buildings which include an agriculture engineering structure, a veterinary science building, a group of greenhouses and a stock show arena.

The directors also accepted the bid of Blythe and company of Chicago for purchase of $250,000 in bonds which will be retired over a ten year period for construction of a Student Union building. Funds of the college which have been set aside for this building will be added to the above amount.

Newly Organized Tech Parents Club

A Texas Tech's Parents Club was organized in Fort Worth last month. Mrs. Guy Rodstrom was chosen temporary chairman of the group which will organize to increase interest in Texas Tech and its students.

A meeting is planned for January 13 for further organization. The group plans to have alternate daytime and night meetings so that the club will be composed of not only mothers of Tech students, but their fathers as well. At this month's meeting scheduled in the lecture hall of the library, officers will be elected. The nominating committee includes Mrs. E. E. Edwards, Roy Miller, U. N. Malone and F. E. Messersmith. Mrs. E. E. Aldridge is temporary program chairman.

Although this is the first Texas Tech's Parents Club in the state, a group of women in San Angelo are endeavoring to organize a Mother's Club there for the support of the college and the students. Both groups are working in conjunction with their local chapters of the Texas Tech Ex-Student Association. Hugh McCullough, vice-president of the Fort Worth chapter, spoke in the first meeting of the group there and explained to them the purposes of the exes organization in connection with the college.

THE EX-STUDENTS

The Ex-Students Association is still searching for the 30,000 former students' addresses that do not appear in the files.

1949 Loyalty Fund Honor Roll Is Printed In News

The 1949 Honor roll, which lists the exes who contributed to the Loyalty Fund during the past year, are listed in the inner pages of this issue of the Ex-Student News. In order to curb expenses, the Association is not publishing a separate booklet this year. Contributors are listed geographically according to Association districts, with the towns in each district listed alphabetically. To find your district turn to the maps of Texas or the United States on which the districts are outlined showing the counties or states they include.

More Cotton Uses Is Goal Of Research

Better understanding of the physical properties of Texas cotton as an aid in the utilization and merchandising of the State's cotton is the goal of research now underway at Texas Tech and the University of Texas. The Cotton Research Committee of Texas of which John F. Leahy, is director, is sponsoring the project.

Physical properties of cotton fiber in relation to problems of merchandising and utilization are being studied of cotton from approximately fifty communities over Texas. Cotton from each community is typed as to physical properties, and is spun into nine different yarn counts using various twists and drafts to discover what combination gives the best results for each type of yarn. Measurements of physical properties and spinning research are being conducted by the Cotton Research located at Texas Tech.

The datum obtained from these tests is being analyzed by members of the Cotton Merchandising Research at the University of Texas. Such analysis is hoped to result in information leading to more effective merchandising and utilization of Texas cotton. Instruments that measure strength, length, length uniformity, fineness and maturity are being used to obtain further insight into merchandising problems associated with specific mill uses for cotton.

Increased competition between cotton and synthetics makes information on fiber properties and spinnability highly important to mills and merchants, who seriously need such information if present markets are to be retained. Knowledge of fiber properties of Texas cotton and how they translate in the mill provides also the edge needed by merchants to meet competition from foreign cottons. They encounter such competition when they attempt to sell Texas cotton to the mills of Europe and the Orient.

Tech Featured In January Issue Of Oil Publication

Texas Tech is featured in the January issue of the Shamrock, a trade magazine of the Shamrock Oil and Gas company.

The magazine is entirely devoted to Tech, honoring the college at the beginning of its silver anniversary celebration. Clark Schooley, assistant professor of journalism, said it was to feature at least four big stories. The issue will contain a story on Tech sports, another on traditions, a section entitled "Looking at the Campus," and the fourth "Mixing Buffalo Grass with Higher Education."

C. R. Bowen edits the magazine at the company's headquarters in Amarillo. Schooley and Bob Rutland, assistant publicity director, wrote most of the copy. The magazine was published early this month. Copies may be secured by writing to Bowen in Amarillo, stated Schooley.

THE TEXAS TECHSAN

The "Texas Techsan" whose first issue will appear in February will endeavor to furnish more information on the Former Students. Let the Editor know about your new wife, son, daughter, or position. Send the information to Texas Tech, Box 96, Lubbock, Texas.

Last Hour Dawns For Ex-Student News

Ass'n To Publish Magazine "Texas Techsan," Monthly

This is the last hour for the Ex-Student News. The forlorn tabloid is making way for a 24-page magazine which will begin publication next month, states D. M. McElroy, executive secretary.

R. A. Rutland, assistant director of public information, has been named managing editor of the magazine, entitled "The Texas Techsan." The Techsan will feature campus news, features and progress reports on various Tech programs as well as a sports section and class column. The magazine will replace the News and will be published seven times during the academic year and once during the summer of each year. Each division will be featured in one issue of the magazine sometime during each year.

Both McElroy and Rutland said emphasis of the new publication will be on spot news and feature photographs. The first issue will be mailed to all exes on the present mailing list, but afterwards only subscribers will receive the magazine. All people on the 1949 honor roll, otherwise all Loyalty Fund contributors during the past year, will be carried on the 1950 subscription list and 1950 contributors will be added. Subscription rate for the publication is $3, and that $3 will be deducted from any contribution sent in to the Loyalty Fund, stated McElroy.

The publication of a magazine represents Tech's growth as a college. The alumni and ex-students associations of all the major colleges publish such a publication. McElroy stated that it was hoped the magazine would increase interest in the college and the work of the association itself.

Will Rogers Statue Erected On Campus

Will Rogers and his good steed Soapsuds now ride on Tech campus. The statue is a gift of Amon Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star Telegram.

The statue which faces the sunset and is placed on the boulevard east of the Circle where the flagpole formerly stood, has not been unveiled. The unveiling date has not yet been revealed.

Will was erected during the Christmas holidays by Thomas S. Burns Architectural and Engineering company of Fort Worth. He is seated on the horse and supposedly riding into the sunset. The flagpole has been moved to the engineering boulevard and placed directly in front of the textile engineering building.

Clifford Jones President, W. C. Holden Director Of Newly-Opened Museum

The West Texas Museum which opens publicly this month had a pre-view opening in December. The pre-view dinner was held in the auditorium of the new building and honored those who made the building possible.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president emeritus of Texas Tech, was elected president of the Museum Association for the coming year and Dr. W. C. Holden, dean of graduate studies at the college, was named director of the local museum.

The dreams of the museum started twenty years ago, pointed out Dean James G. Allen, in giving a history of the building. In February 28, 1929, Mrs. Mary Doak, then dean of women, described her visit to the British Museum in England. The basement structure which has been on the campus for many years was built by a $25,000 state legislature appropriation. Money drives were held in 1940, 1943, and 1949 and resulted in $50,000 in contributions to the Association.

EXES' EMPLOYED BY WHEAT AND FLOUR INSTITUTE

Gwen Lam, class of '43, and Jolene Vannoy, '31, were recently employed by the Wheat and Flour Institute of Chicago.

Miss Lam is in charge of the monthly bulletin on experimental cookery and is assistant editor of the publications department. Miss Vannoy is a southern representative for the institute.

Exes Turn Out In Fresno To Give Team And Texans Large Reception

Chapters Entertain And Elect Officers

The chapters of the Ex-Students' Association have been busy during the yuletide season with holiday parties for exes and students home for the Christmas vacation.

In DALLAS, the White Plaza hotel was the scene of a party featuring egg nog, fruit cake and coffee. In election of officers Troy A. Caldwell, graduate of '46 who once headed the student body and is now a marine special agent for the Gulf Insurance company in Dallas, was chosen as president. Gene Hardy, '47 and former Red Raider, was named vice-president and Marilyn Walker, nee Marilyn Snyder, class of '46 and former editor of La Ventana, secretary-treasurer. Hardy is a student in the Southwestern Medical College and Mrs. Walker is a housewife. Approximately 60 people attended the party at which the exes voted to have four meetings a year.

East Texas Club

Just last month the EAST TEXAS CLUB was organized in Glade-water to represent the Ex-Students Association in that section of the state. A second meeting is planned for January 15 when films of the Tech football team will be shown along with "Futures Unlimited." Truman C. Jones, graduate of '36 and principal of the high school at Gilmer, Texas was elected the chapter president. Other officers include Mrs. Holmes Webb of Gladewater.

Jim O. Hill was recently elected president of the HILLSBORO chapter. Fred Owens as vice-president, Harold Eastland, chairman committee, and Mrs. Hazel Qualls, secretary are the others chosen as officers. The group gave a Christmas party and dance December 27 at the Hillsboro Country Club for all exes and students home for the holidays. The event started with dancing at 8:30 p.m. and ended with a midnight breakfast. The newly-chosen head mentar, Hill, is a dairy manufacturing graduate of the class of '32 and is a partner and manager of the Texas Hillcrest Dairy Products. Eastland, class of '47 and the retiring president, is supervisor of the Hill County Vocational School. Mrs. Qualls, the former Hazel Smith,

Approximately 50 Tech exes and 240 Texans turned out to meet the Red Raiders when they arrived in Fresno, Calif. by train December 29 for the annual Raisin Bowl tilt. Exes entertained Techsans and the team with a reception and a breakfast. Ralph Barker, former Techsan, who is associated with Growers Supply and Equipment company in Fresno, was chairman of alumni activities.

Preceding the reception at the train, headquarters were opened at the Hotel Californian December 27 with a registration desk manned by volunteers of the Tech exes of Fresno both afternoons and evenings. The ex-Techsans used the traditional Tech yells during the game and banged out with the cow bells.

Climaxing pre-game activities, the alumni gave a breakfast at 10 a.m. Saturday, December 21 in the Hotel Californian at which all Texans were invited. The football team was the guest of the Fresno Hockey team in Los Angeles New Year's Day and Monday found them guests of the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif.

Soil Conservation Should Be Taught In Grade School State Two Tech Professors

The grade school is the best place to start young Americans' education of soil conservation states Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, acting head of Tech's education department and Dr. A. W. Young, head of the plant industry department.

The professor agreed that soil-saving practices should be taught the kids right along with their ABC's and that all elementary teachers should be required to take courses in agriculture.

"Soil conservation undoubtedly should be taught from the fourth grade through college," Dr. Jackson said. At present the average elementary teacher is not trained in even the basic soil courses and usually has no agriculture at all.

"The teachers who live in an agricultural community need a background which would permit soil conservation training for 12-year-olds," pointed out Dr. Young. "At present, the children are never exposed to conservation until they reach high school and might possibly take a course under a vocational agriculture teacher who is trained in such practices."

John White, '46 Announces Candidacy For State Agricultural Commissioner

John White, 25 year-old graduate of '46, has announced his future candidacy for agricultural commissioner of Texas in next summer's primaries.

The former yell leader is at present director of the agriculture department at Hardin College in Wichita Falls as well as being co-ordinator of the three-county vocational school for Wichita, Wilbarger and Archer counties.

A 225 pound, 6-foot red head. White charged in announcing his intention of running for office that the department office of agricultural commissioner had not been doing the job it was set up to do.

"The certified seed program is a farce in this state. The laws regarding certified seed are good but as they are being carried out they are not effective."

"The office of commissioner of agriculture must be co-operative with all agricultural agencies to promote better agriculture for our state. Texas is a dumping ground for diseased and infested livestock from all other states and the people of Texas must be protected against these animals being brought into our state."

After his graduation, White worked for International Harvester company in Amarillo until February, 1947. Then he joined the Hardin College County Vocational School as an agricultural instructor in Wilbarger county. In August of '47 he joined the agriculture faculty of Hardin college. He became co-ordinator of the vocational school in October of the same year and since the middle of 1948 has held the position of acting director of the Hardin agriculture department.

Clifford Ransdell Represents A&M At Bryan Field

Clifford H. Ransdell, BS in education, class of '37, has been named to represent the dean of A&M College at Bryan Field Annex. He is also assistant to the dean of engineering at the college.

Ransdell succeeds Dr. Paul E. Abbott who recently took over the office of dean of the School of Arts and Sciences. The former Tech-san was born at Breckenridge, Texas in 1909.

He went to A&M in 1937 as an instructor of engineering and has risen to the position of associate professor in the engineering drawing department. Twelve years of Ransdell's 18 years of teaching experience have been in the Texas college.

Ransdell was formerly advisor to freshmen engineering students at the annex. He is a junior member of the American Association of Professors.

From Ex to Ex...

Next year marks a great year in the history of Texas Tech college . . . its silver anniversary . . . the year the school is 25 years old. Plans are being made for a celebration of the event in conjunction with Homecoming. Last month November 11 was announced as the Homecoming date selected by the board of Directors of the Ex-Students' Association. That date is not final. It is subject to the approval of the Student Council of the college who as host for the event will set the final date. Dean of Men James G. Allen has been appointed head of the college committee on the Silver Anniversary. Other faculty members are Prof. C. V. Bullen, head of electrical engineering, Dr. W. B. Gates, professor of English, and Robert Rutland, assistant in the office of public information and editor of official college bulletins and catalogues. A committee of exes recently appointed and announced in last month's issue will work with the group.

In looking back over 25 years Tech has come a long way. It has the only textile engineering department west of the Mississippi. It is developing a highly-rated department of petroleum engineering. It has one of the largest campuses in the world.

Old photographs taken of the campus and students on the campus in the 1925-28 era are needed in the office of public information on the campus for the illustrations in a forthcoming publication celebrating this anniversary. Robert Rutland, editor of campus bulletins, promises that all photos loaned to the college will be returned to the owner in good condition along with a heartfelt thanks. Any ex wishing to send in any such photo is asked to mail it to Robert Rutland, Publicity department, Texas Tech, or to bring it by his office in the press building.

At the recent meeting of the college Board of Directors a committee was appointed to name the dormitories on the campus now known as Men's III and Men's IV and Women's III and Women's IV. It is hoped such names will be permanent so that when exes return to the campus they will find their former homes still called by the same names. In recent years names of dorms have been changed. We are certain the reasons for changing well-justified their changing. But it still seems to us that it gives more of an air of stability and permanence to the campus to leave the names unchanged.

Tech's recent spirit at Christmas was its greatest in years. Before the campus had been decorated with the lighted tree in the Circle and with the nativity scene at the eastern edge . . . but the yule tide decorations contest sponsored by the Tech Chamber of Commerce brought new life to the campus. The decorated dorms were a beautiful sight.

Will Rogers and his good steed, Soapsuds, are a welcome addition to the campus. Rogers is a symbol of Americanism and down-to-earth education. He once said he learned all he ever knew by reading the newspapers and he remained, when he had millions, "just plain folks." . . . We hope Texas Tech will be filled with the spirit of Will and remain the college of just plain folks.

Cradle Rockers

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Smith had a second son born to them November 20 in Tulsa, Okla. Hitting the scales at six lbs, eleven oz., he was named Mark William. Smith, a '49 graduate, is employed by the US Corps of Engineers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mac Keith of Lubbock are the parents of a son. Mrs. Keith is the former Mary Ruth McClellan, BS in home economics in '48 and formerly secretary to the dean of home economics on the campus. Keith, a '49 graduate in business administration, is an accountant for Mead's Fine Bread company.

Earl Mayo, engineering graduate, was recently named the state highway department resident engineer for Coleman county. He had been assistant to the Brown county area engineer for several years.

Debaters Take Top Honors In Four Events Recently

Tech's debating team won top honors in four events at the Southwestern Invitation Debate tournament held last month at the University of Texas. David Blackbird, sophomore arts and sciences student from Dallas and Jerry Sanders, graduate arts and sciences student from Tyler were the members of the winning team.

The Techs won over teams from University of Texas, the University of Wichita, Southwestern university and Southwestern State college. They had one loss to the University of Wichita. Sanders debated once individually to tie with a student from the University of Kansas.

The tournament was an exhibition debate meet presented to high school students by colleges and universities in Texas, Kansas and Wichita.

An outstanding member of the Agriculture club will be chosen by the club each month and at the end of the year, the outstanding Aggie of the year will be elected from this group. A five-man committee of club members will be chosen each month to make the selection. He will be chosen on the basis of his contribution to the club.

Block and Bridle sponsored the Little International Livestock Show January 11 on Tech campus. Doyle E. Lane, senior Aggie, served as general superintendent. Others serving were Buddy Winters, beef cattle; William J. Krueger, dairy cattle; W. G. Rogers, horses; J. H. Heath, sheep, and Bobby Fee, swine. Purpose of this show, which was the second one of its kind to be held at Tech, was to give animal husbandry students training in the conducting of livestock shows.

Tech's Department of Music received wide acclaim when it presented its first intra-departmental Christmas concert December 19 in the Lubbock High school auditorium. A joint presentation was given by the Tech Men's Glee Club now in its third year and still under the direction of Richard Richards; the Tech Choir of mixed voices organized this fall by Gene Hemmle, new music department head and the Campusaires, a chorus of women's voices, organized also this fall by Hemmle. The Tech concert band, under the direction of D. O. Wiley and Joe Haddon also participated in the concert. The numbers ranged from Negro spirituals to Christmas carols.

Sue Holmes, junior journalism student from Garland, was recently appointed to represent Tech on the Mademoiselle magazine's College Board.

Miss Holmes is one of 850 appointees from colleges over the nation who will report campus news, fads and fashions and do three magazine assignments during the year. She will also compete for one of 20 guest editorships to be awarded by the magazine next June.

These guest editors will go to New York for a month in June to help write and edit Mademoiselle's 1950 college issue.

A Christmas decorations contest was sponsored on the campus this year by Tech Chamber of Commerce. Men's Dorm IV with a sleigh of Santa and his reindeers won first prize of $25. Women's Dorm IV took second prize of $15 and Women's Dorm III third prize of $10.

The winning dorm featured Santa's sleigh and reindeer on the ground near the door and Santa himself over the entrance beside a lighted Christmas tree. Every window in the dorm had a lighted wreath, candle or some similar decoration.

Women's Dorm IV had three angelic carolers singing by the light of street lamps and standing in front of Christmas trees over their entrance. The door was bedecked with evergreen hangings and a wreath with red tinsel bells. The third place winner featured a huge peppermint cane tied with a big red ribbon and a branch of mistletoe which hung above the door and was lighted by spotlights. A shiny "Merry Christmas" and colored lights surrounded the entrance. Other dorms were also decorated for the holidays. A large lighted tree stood in the center of the Circle, lights flashed from the tower of the administration building while a manger scene was located on the eastern edge of the Circle facing the Broadway entrance to the college.

Baptist Student Union on Tech campus is publishing its first yearbook this spring. The annual, entitled the Duster, is put out by Tech Baptist students and will record Baptist student activities at the college Student Center, and the Lubbock Baptist churches. Leon West, arts and science senior, is editor of the yearbook, which is the first such annual to be published by a Texas college. It will represent 1700 of Tech's student body.

James Witte, senior pre-med student from San Antonio, was recently named director of the 1950 Tech Varsity Show. Witte was connected with the stage, both production and acting side of it, while in the Navy and while attending the University of Texas and George Washington university in Washington, D.C., as well as working with the San Antonio Little Theater. Sponsors for this year's show are William Whittington, professor of accounting and finance, and W. H. Tinney, associate professor of dairy manufactures. Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, co-sponsor of the last year's show, is an advisor this year. Five scripts have been submitted for the show but as yet none have been picked by the committee, composed of Margaret Clark, Student council secretary, Raymond Brigham, council business manager, Bill Parsley, council member and last year's show director and the director Witte.

Exes In Southeast Lead In Fund Support

Texas, The United States, U. S. Territories, and foreign countries were divided into districts as a unit basis for the Texas Tech Loyalty Fund 1949 campaign. As the maps on the following pages show, 1-24 districts are in Texas, 25-31 in the other United States, and 32 in U.S. Territories and foreign countries.

District 31 representing the Southeastern States, was tops in per cent of participation, and one of the three best in average amount of contributions. When all districts come up to the standard set in 1949 by District 31, the Ex-Students Association will through the Loyalty Fund be able to assume its responsibilities and obligations to Texas Tech.

District 7, representing Lubbock County was first in average amount of contributions, as this included a number of large gifts, while District 24 representing South Texas was second in average amount of contributions.

An interesting note is the fact that of the 5 top districts in per cent of participation only one is a Texas district and that being the district in Texas farthest removed from the campus.

Below is a breakdown of contributions by districts. These figures are based on the number of former students represented by gifts and the number of former students living in each district. Districts may be located by maps on pages 4 and 5. this section.

District	Number Contributors	Per Cent Contributors	Amount Contributed
31	34	27. %	$ 308.23
32	11	24. %	73.00
18	42	23.6 %	183.50
25	45	20.6 %	154.50
28	42	20.2 %	200.00

GIFTS AVERAGE $10.52

The Texas Tech Loyalty Fund during 1949 received 967 separate and distinct gifts totaling $10173.75. This total is not high as we had hoped, but the average contribution of $10.52 is gratifying. The gifts actually represent 1200 former students since many checks were from couples or business partners.

Below is an individual breakdown of the contributions received during 1949.

Exes	Gave	Amount
69	$ 1.00	$ 69.00

Spartans' Passing Offense Defeats Tech In Raisin Bowl

Tech Backs New Athletic Rules

The Border Conference, of which Texas Tech is a member is backing four stringent revisions of regulations of college athletes which will be acted on at the annual National Collegiate Athletic association meeting in New York this month.

Faculty representatives of Border conference schools voted to favor the revisions at their meeting in El Paso last month. These revisions are:

1. Athletes shall receive financial aid only during seasons in which they participate, with no aid, except for work performed, during the off-season.

2. Colleges will be prohibited from paying traveling expenses and excessive entertainment for prospective athletes.

3. Athletes who follow coaches to new assignments shall lose two years of eligibility through transfer.

4. Coaches and their staff members will be prohibited from soliciting prospective athletes although the athletic officials may give information on individual colleges.

The conference voted down a proposal that coaches be forbidden from looking over prospects in spring practice or at other times on the campus prior to offering financial aid. Hardin Simmons' chances of using Julius C. Stagner, all-Conference forward again this season was ousted when the Conference voted to continue a policy of crediting college credit obtained in the armed forces on records of veteran athletes in the colleges. If the rule had been changed, Stagner would have had another year of eligibility.

The spring track meet was transferred to Arizona State at Tempe when the University of Arizona disclosed that the construction on an addition to the stadium in Tucson would prohibit use of the track.

A baseball tournament was arranged for Abilene early in May when H-SU, West Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas Western and Arizona State of Tempe promised to send teams. Other conference members said they might enter teams after studying the situation.

Students' Sweet Tooth Is Bringing In $5,000 Each Year For 'Ye Olde College

By SUE HOLMES
Tortador Staff Writer

Tech students have a sweet tooth, you can be sure!

One out of every two Techsians every day plunks a nickel in a candy vending machine on the campus and munches on the peanut-filled or chocolate-covered dextrose.

E. B. Sanders, whose job it is to keep the 32 machines on the campus filled, said Thursday he puts an average of 100 candy bars in each machine six days a week.

Tech has a contract with Royal Crown Bottling company which provides that the school will get $5,000 per year or 15 per cent of the gross intake of the machine according to M. L. Pennington, college comptroller.

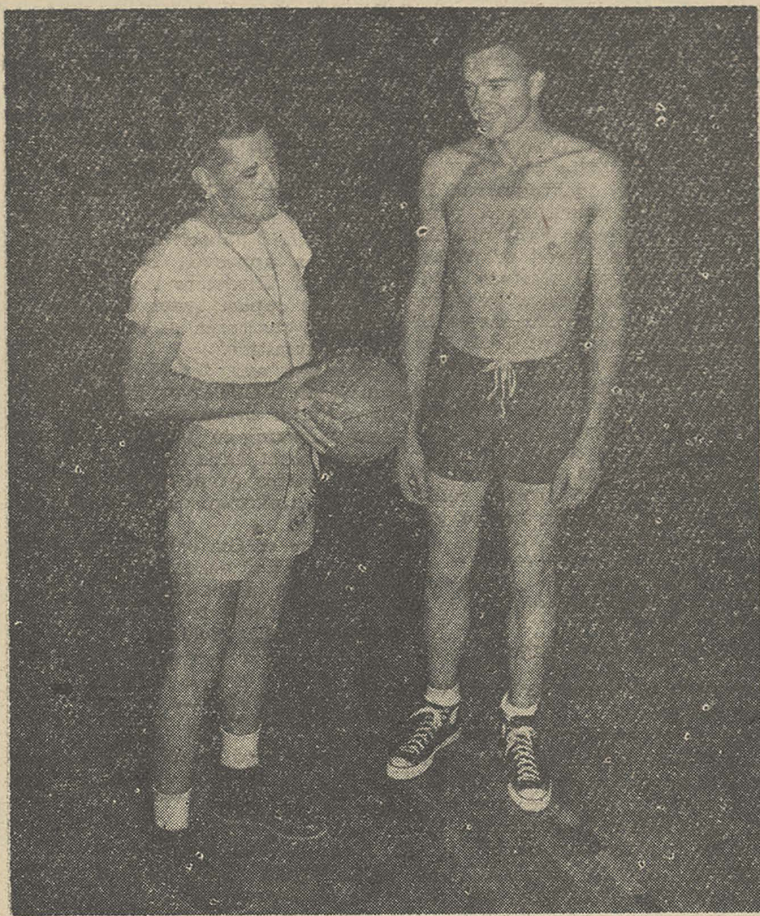

Considering there are 36 weeks in the regular school term, and assuming that candy eating will not lag, this business easily could amount to $34,540 annually.

Situated in dorms and class buildings, the candy "automats" provide cud for students to chew while being lectured to by an indulgent professor or otherwise satisfy an Ed or Co-ed hit by hunger pangs.

"Monday is my light day on filling the machines. Of course that's to be expected, since very few people are in the buildings Saturday afternoon and Sunday," Sanders explained.

Something he can't explain is why aggie students don't buy cheese crackers. After finding the cracker stock undiminished for several days, he says he took them out and inserted candy instead.

Baby Ruth is by far the favorite candy, Sanders reported. Butterfingers are also excellent sellers. Heath, a new addition to the machine stocks, sells fast. Surprisingly America's one-time favorite, the Hershey, is not very popular on the campus.

Gettys, Pursel, Conley, Steveson Are Named On All-Star Conference Lineup

Four members of the Texas Tech Raider football squad were named to the Border Conference all-star team for 1949. Marshall Gettys, Dan Pursel and Bud Conley were all named on the first team while Cal Steveson took a berth on the second team.

1949 Records Show Raiders Lack Aerial Attack Of Others

A lack of pass offense kept the Red Raider ball carriers from topping their opponents in all fields of play during the past season.

The Raiders took 174 points in an 11-game schedule against a total of 164 gathered by their opponents. The Techsians covered 2,392 yards on the ground and gave up a total of only 1,801 to their opponents but in the air they were weak. Opponents gained 1,185 yards via aeriels while Tech took only 795. Eight Tech passes ended in touchdowns while ten opponents' passes tallied.

Conley Leads On Ground

Bud Conley topped the team in net yards gained from the line of scrimmage with 654. Cal Steveson was second with 366 yards and J. W. Thompson, third, with 316 and Ike Stuver fourth with 300. Ernest Hawkins led in passes and Dick Jackson in receiving while Stuver was first among the punters.

Hawkins had 32 completions in 84 attempts for 500 yards and three touchdowns. Milton Rathbone was second with 11 completions in 29 attempts for 119 yards and three tallies. Third was Bill Lyman with twenty trials and seven completions for 63 yards. Surprise passer of the year was Cal Steveson who chunked two touchdown passes in the game against H-SU that cinched the Border Conference crown for the Raiders. In three attempts he had two completions for 102 yards and the two scores.

Jackson Beats Hatch

Jackson nosed out Tim Hatch for receiving honors by a mere six yards, Jackson totaling 136 yards in four forwards for two scores, while Hatch totaled 130 yards for 12 aeriels caught. Stuver took seven passes for 121 yards and Jack Davis seven for 111 yards.

Stuver had 1,161 yards on 32 boots for an average of 36.2 per try. Steveson was second with 469 on 15 punts at 31.3 yards average. Hawkins in punt returns had 18 run-backs at 9 yards average per each with the sum total of 166 yards. On kick-off returns Hatch had 138 yards in seven scampers; See 1949 RECORDS, Page 8

The selection marked the second in a row for Gettys, tackle, and Pursel, guard. Busting Bud, who plays fullback, received the honor for the first time. Three members of the Hardin-Simmons Cowboy eleven and three members of the Texas Western Miners along with one from both the Tempe and West Texas State elevens, were also selected on the all-star team.

Members of the first team include Robert McChesney, H-SU, and Charles Kitchens, West Texas, at end; Gettys and James De Groat, Texas Western tackles; Ernest Keily, Texas Western and Pursel, guards; Wayne Hansen, Texas Western, center; John Ford, H-SU, quarterback; Whizzer White, Tempe and Hook Davis, H-SU, halfbacks; and Conley, fullback.

Receiving positions on the second team were Vince Cisterna, Flagstaff and Wilson Knapp, New Mexico, ends; Bruce Womack, West Texas and Tony Bernitsky, New Mexico, tackles; Bob Surratt, H-SU, and Weldon Bates, West Texas, guards; William Gosselin, Tempe, center; Cecil Coleman, Texas Western and Steveson, halfbacks; and Phil Heale, New Mexico A&M, fullback.

Techsians Short On Mon Find Help In New Pay-When-You-Can Loan Fund

"Say, buddy, loan me $5," is a cry that doesn't go unheralded at Texas Tech. A College Avenue merchant has started a loan plan that is interest-free, no-questions-asked and pay-when-you can. The plan has seen $855 turn hands since last September.

Al Alschuler, owner of a clothing store, permits students to take $5 off a bulletin board in his store, sign their name and pay within a week. He heard of the plan in an eastern restaurant and decided to try it in Lubbock. In four months he has made 171 loans and had three outstanding at the beginning of the Christmas holidays but as yet has lost no money but gained a lot of good will in giving students a "financial boost over the weekend."

Texas Tech Raiders Start Scoring But Bow In Third Quarter To 20-13 Loss

Tech's bowl history repeated itself December 31 when San Jose Spartans took to the air to defeat the Raiders 20-13 in the fifth annual Raisin Bowl tilt at Ratcliffe Stadium in Fresno, Cal.

Cagemen Win Six Out Of Ten Games

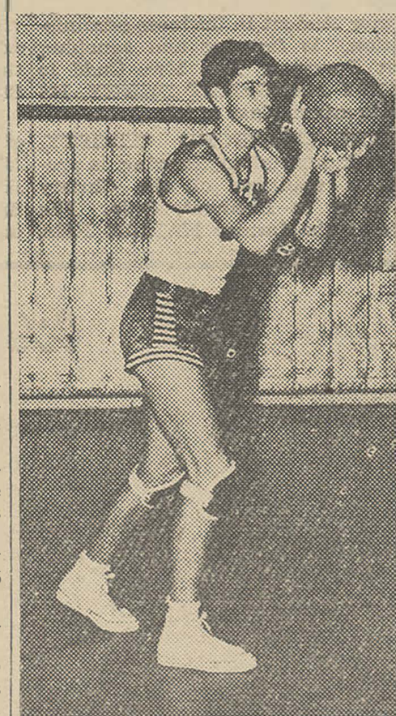

Tech's cagemen began the New Year of 1950 with a record of six victories and four defeats on their playing slate. And the season isn't all over, sixteen games lie ahead to climax the cage year March 4 with a game against West Texas State at Canyon.

The Raiders took three of the four defeats in a five-game road trip in December that led them against the teams of Baylor, Rice, Trinity, all of which defeated the weaker and less-experienced Tech team. Outstanding in play during this road trip was Chester "Jiggs" Jackson, especially in the Rice game when the Owls had to change their defense to bottle up the scrappy basketeer who tallied 15 points in the first half. The Raiders were a little rough on the Owls in the second half and Rice took advantage to make 13 points on 18 free throws. Rice beat the Techsians 57-45. San Antonio's Trinity college took the long end of a 65-53 count in a game that was theirs from the start except for one brief period in the third quarter. Baylor mowed down the Raiders for a 58-37 win. The Techsians held the score about even until the second half and then the Bears simply walked away with the game.

The Raider season thus far has held some thrillers like the 60-59 victory they took over the Howard Payne Yellowjackets. At three and one half minutes to play the score was 58-58. Jackson made the hoop for the two point lead Tech needed. Then the Yellowjackets took a point on a free throw. But their last shots were wild and the game ended with Tech in the lead. The Robisonmen downed the highly-rated Checker Cab Independent team of San Antonio 62-43. The Raiders were on the low end of the score in the first few minutes of play, but at halftime, the Techsians had a six point lead. Jack Alderson's thirty-one points were the standouts in this game.

Wayland has bowed twice to the Raiders, the first time at a score of 58-50 and the second 54-33. The second tilt was a see-saw battle that was tied five times. Charles Pinnell of Tech was high scorer with 18 points on nine field goals. The other men outstanding in play thus far have been Verdel Turner of Lubbock, 6-foot-3 sophomore, and Gene Gibson, 6-foot-5 senior who plays forward.

* * * * *

Eugene Gibson, 6-5 senior, is playing his last season for the Red Raider cagemen. Gibs has shown himself to be an outstanding forward.

The Morganmen loomed ahead in the first quarter to start the scoring and although the score at half-time was 7-7, the Raiders still seemed to have a slight edge over the Californians. But the Spartans' aerial attack proved its worth in the second half as two third period passes tallied the difference.

The Red Raiders took off on a 34-yard march in ten plays to score. Tim Hatch who started the march also converted. San Jose struck back in the second quarter as quarterback Gene Menges passed a 30-yard aerial to end Ben Wilson and tackle Jack Faulk converted.

San Jose Intercepts

The big break for San Jose came in the third quarter when Ernest Hawkins threw a pass that was intercepted by center Keith Carpenter who ran it back to the Tech 11. One play later San Jose was six points ahead.

Tech was bottled up in its own territory most of the third quarter although the Raiders did knock once more at the goal of the Spartans under the ground gaining attack of Ike Stuver. Another pass interception spelled the end of that threat however.

In ground attack Tech held a wide margin throughout the whole game taking a net of 201 yards while the Spartans scraped up 144. The air attack made the whole difference. Tech tried twelve passes and completed four for 99 yards. San Jose tried seventeen passes, completed ten for 139 yards.

Conley Workhorse

Bud Conley carried the ball 15 times in the whole game for an average of 3.5 yards each time. It was Ike Stuver who galloped 76 yards for the second tally in a run that almost broke all bowl records. Eddie Hanna ran 79 yards for a Colorado A&M touchdown in '46. According to legend, tackles Marshall Gettys, John Andres, and guard Dan Pursel played a heck of a ball game as did Dick Cavazos and Dick Pirtle, two boys of which a lot is expected next year. The Raiders will lose several strong men this season, among them, Gettys, Pursel, Conley, Zombie Johnston, Cal Steveson, Hawkins, Milton Rathbone, Bill Lyman.

Twenty-One Students Listed On Who's Who For 1949-50

Nineteen seniors and two juniors were named on the annual list of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" at Texas Tech recently. Nominations were made by the faculty of each department of the college and the final selections were made by a committee of six students and two faculty members from qualifications presented by the national group.

Marshall Gettys, Raymond Brigham and Elizabeth Craig are receiving the honor for the second time and the only juniors included Andrew Behrends and Ralph Lacy. The scholastic requirement for the nominations set up by the committee was a 1.65 grade point average or better.

Included this year are William Adair, Lubbock, engineer; Marion Baumgardner, Wellington, aggie; Behrends, Dimmitt, aggie; Brigham, Stamford, aggie; Margy Bullen, Lubbock, engineer; Miss Craig, Lubbock, home economics major; Gettys, Amarillo, engineer; Kenneth Hancock, Lubbock, engineer; Alyce Hix, Abilene, arts and sciences major; Royce Hopkins, Lubbock, business ad major; Ralph Lacy, Goldsmith, engineer; Joe Mac Montgomery, Longworth, engineer; Floyd Rector, Lubbock, arts and sciences major; Bobby Joe Salem, Sudan, arts and sciences major; Jane Skinner, Electra, journalism major; James F. Smith, Lamesa, journalism major; William Trenfield, Lubbock, arts and sciences major; Cloy Weems, Ralls, aggie; Glenna Winston, Brownfield, journalism major; Kathryn Witty, Hamilton, engineer and Marriion Woods, Lubbock, home economics major.

New Scholarship Is Given For Women Pre-Law Majors

A new scholarship made available by the Lubbock Bar Auxiliary has been approved by the Tech Board of Directors according to a recent report from Dr. Ernest Wallace, chairman of the Scholarship committee.

The new award will pay 50 percent each semester or $80 annually to a junior or senior woman student majoring in pre-law. The applicant must have and maintain a 2.0 or better grade point average and a minimum of 30 hours in residence.

Purpose of the scholarship is to encourage and assist young women of Lubbock in the field of law and to induce them to continue their studies in that field.

Houston Party

HOUSTON exes had a party early in December in the form of a fun night at Don's at 2410 Old Spanish Trail at Alameda. Mrs. Evelyn Knox, secretary, requests that all exes in that area who are not being contacted concerning the Houston activities to contact either Kenneth W. Robbins, president or Gilbert Knox, vice-president. Both are in the telephone book and will be glad to give any information possible about the chapter there, dues for which are $5 a year. Approximately 125 exes attended the recent game party.

The OKLAHOMA CITY chapter is planning a meeting this month to show "Futures Unlimited." Organized only two months ago, the group is headed by Ralph Glover as president, Homer S. Newman, vice-president and reporter, and Mary Wells Blount, secretary. Glover, chemical engineer, class of '31, is a highway engineer.

Mothers' Club

In SAN ANGELO a newly-organized Mothers' Club joined with the exes chapter in sponsoring a holiday dance for exes and students there for the holidays. The formal event was held in the Melody Club December 27.

Miss Rylander, who has a BA in English and MA in English, class of '31, is secretary to Congressman George H. Mahon. Walker, '37 in journalism, is employed by the legislative reference service of the Library of Congress.

One of two observatories in the South connected with educational institutions, Tech's observatory co-operates with the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, sending its work to the other 36 observatories in the United States. There are no other observatories between New Orleans and Lincoln, Nebraska or between Little Rock, Arkansas and Tucson, said Patton. All seismographic information sent in by Tech is coordinated by the national office.

The national agency helps set up equipment in return for the cooperation of the observatories. The delicate machinery which must be kept in perfect working order, records the faint tremors of distant earth quakes. These tremors are received by a concrete pier or base located in Tech's observatory, causing the pier to vibrate. Such quakes are sometimes on the other side of the earth.

A horizontal pendulum on the pier changes the vibrations into electrical energy, and then these waves are transmitted through other machines to a photographic film upon which the tremors are recorded.

A new building designed to house the observatory is being built by Ralph Elder, general contractor, and will be situated behind the chemistry building. It will be put to use as soon as possible. Tech's observatory has the best and most up to date equipment made by the Springnether company, stated Patton.

The name of the observatory was changed by the College Board of Directors from Station at the suggestion of College President D. M. Wiggins, since the word "observatory" indicates work, whereas "station" does not.

The observatory records approximately two or three earthquakes a week. Some of these quakes have been as far away as Japan, Siberia, Argentina, Mexico and the islands of the Pacific.

SPEAKING OF ROSES

In the old days when Tech campus was mighty sandy for roses, the "roses" flourished nevertheless.

Mrs. R. E. Willis, the former Juanita Rose, is a home economics graduate of '42 and one of a family of roses who attended Tech. Katherine is now Mrs. B. C. Spratt and Luceille, Mrs. Robert Miekler, are former Techsans. Nuge Rose, a brother, is a former Aggie student and Mrs. Ily Barton, the former Daisy Jo Rose, also attended Tech. Another sister is the wife of L. G. Harmon, an instructor in the Aggie division on the campus and the frost still hasn't gotten the roses. Austin, jr., is a student.
