Texas Tech Enters 21st Year In Fall

Past 20 Years Of College History Reviewed Briefly

TECH'S growth during the first two decades of its history might be compared with that of a tree in good soil, normal and steady, until the war years caused a late freeze. With the return of 72 World War II veterans, however, there is already evidence of new growth and the greener years that lie ahead.

Pres. W. M. Whyburn, asked for an estimate on future growth of Tech, states that his belief is that within three years after the war is over, enrollment will be up to 6,500. Registrar W. P. Clement says he believes it will be between 6,000 and 10,000 within three years after the end of the war, depending on the housing facilities Tech can offer.

The college began with an enrollment of 1,043 during the 1925-26 long session, 731 men and 312 women, and reached a pre-war peak of 4,246 in 1939-40, with 2,715, or 65 per cent of them men, and 1,531 women. Until selective service began to play havoc with statistics in 1940-41 Tech's student body averaged about 60 per cent men and 40 per cent women. In 1942-43 the percentage of men students dropped to 57 and the following year to 42.

Grid Prospects For Fall Bright

Schedule Of Ten Games Announced

COACH Dell Morgan will again have to rely primarily on a group of youngsters to take on the 1945 ten-game schedule. Morgan has very little comment on the prospects for the coming season. He will hand you a schedule and remark, "We certainly were optimistic when we made this out." Then he will show you a list of 24 boys, who were out for the spring football training and remark, "Many of these will definitely not be here in the fall, the others, no one knows whether they will be here for another week or for another three months, but the Red Raiders will be playing them and playing them hard with what we will have on hand in the fall."

Lettermen Returning

On the spring training list are found the names of the following lettermen from the 1944 season: Walter Schlunkman, Dumas; Arthur Shahan, Graham; Cecil Norris, Beaumont, Gene Hardey, Hugoton, Kansas; and T. M. Cox, Mulshoe, Backs. The lettermen linemen who reported for spring training are: John Birdwell, Bossier City, La.; Clyde Black, Ben Franklin; Jack Dillon, Winslow, Ariz; Otis Turner, Wink; Joe Snodgrass, Brownfield; Floyd Lawhorn, Temple; and Bob Haynes, Burk Burnett.

Schlunkman received a medical discharge from the Naval Reserves. Dillon and Turner received medical discharges from the army. Shahan, Norris, Cox, Birdwell Black, and Hayes have been turned down by the armed forces and placed in a 4-F classification. Hardey and Snodgrass have not yet reached their eighteenth birthday.

The remainder of the spring training list consists of a few squadmen from last season and high school graduates who have just recently enrolled at Texas Tech. The Raiders will again be running from the T formation and will have to depend greatly on the seventeen year old boys, who will enroll at Texas Tech this summer in the fall.

Three-Man Staff

The athletic staff consisting of Del Jennings, director of athletics; Dell Morgan, head coach; and Polk Robison, assistant and basketball coach, knows that Texas Tech will again field a football team and play the ten game schedule. How many times the victory bells will ring, no one knows, but there are still plenty of freshmen on the campus to ring them.

Tech will be entering its fourth year of war-time football in September.

Whyburn Extends Alumni Greetings

Close Cooperation With Tech Stressed

"The publication of a Texas Tech alumni newspaper is a source of deep gratification to me and to my colleagues of the college administration and faculty. It is explicit evidence of the genuine interest which our ex-students have in the future of the college, and attests their desire to form a strong organization through which they can substantially further its growth.

"The college needs your interest and support, and invites each alumnus to become an active part of the association which we hope and expect will result from the present beginning. Through a well organized alumni association, it will be possible for you to know what is taking place on the campus and what developments are contemplated for the immediate future. Through this same association, we can quickly and easily contact you to inform you of our needs for your help on matters of importance to the college. Through close cooperation of the faculty and the alumni will come development which increases the value and significance of the part that the college has had in your training.

"To each alumnus of the Texas Technological college I send greetings and a cordial invitation to join with us in a combined undertaking which I am sure will result in unprecedented development for the college."

WILLIAM M. WHYBURN, Pres.

New Tech Prexy On First Faculty

President William M. Whyburn assumed his duties as fourth president of Texas Technological college on September 10, 1944, and was formally inaugurated September 30. He is a native Texan. He received the B. A. degree at the University of Texas in 1922, the M. A. in 1923, and the Ph. D. in 1927, all in the field of mathematics. He was a member of the first faculty of Tech.

Dr. Whyburn had taught two years in the public schools of Texas, one year in a Junior college and two years in Senior colleges of this state. He was a member of the faculty of the University of California at Los Angeles from 1928 to 1944 when he resigned the position of head of the department of mathematics to become president of Texas Tech.

Reorganization Of Alumni Is Sought

Executive Secretary To Be Employed; Plans Outlined

IT'S PROBABLY been years since you've heard of a Texas Tech Alumni association, so this publication promises to be somewhat of a surprise to many of its readers.

It marks another step in the efforts of a loyal group of former students of Texas Tech to revive and reorganize the college alumni association so that it will become an integral unit of Tech's makeup, along with the faculty, students and board of directors.

The determination to revive and reorganize the alumni association has been in the hearts and thoughts of members of the Lubbock county chapter of ex-students for the past two years and their activities have been aimed toward that goal.

With this publication, the Lubbock county chapter is calling on the thousands of graduates and former students of the college to join with it in this movement by lending moral and financial support.

To Set Up Headquarters

The first objective of the association will be to establish permanent headquarters on the campus and employ a permanent full-time paid executive secretary to direct the activities of the association. Full cooperation from President Wm. M. Whyburn and the college administration has been pledged.

There will be no membership dues in the association. Every man and woman who attended Texas Tech in the past 20 years are considered members of the association and are now called upon to aid and support any and all activities of the association.

Finances, of course must be considered, as a budget must be set up for operation of the association to bear the expense of a paid secretary and the cost of issuing a regular publication along with other activities which the association might decide to sponsor.

No Membership Dues

As there will be no membership dues, all former students of the college will be requested to make regular voluntary donations to the alumni association funds so that its activities may be carried on in a business-like manner. With more than 6,000 graduates and an estimated 20,000 former students there should be no difficulty in maintaining the finances for the association's activities.

First objective of the association after a permanent, full-time paid executive secretary is employed will be to compile and maintain a complete roster of graduates and former students of the college with a card index file on each individual, his or her address and brief history of activities since the individual left the Tech campus.

To Issue Periodical

Next, objective, of course will be the regular publication of an alumni periodical, either in newspaper or magazine form so that each person on the roster will receive news about his or her alma mater and old classmates.

Another objective of the association will be to compile a complete roster of all Tech men and women who have served in World War II. Heading the honor roll list will be the casualties, and we want to know the name, rank, address and Tech class of every individual who gave his or her life in the conflict as well as those who served in the various branches of military forces.

Within a few years, a suitable memorial will be erected on the campus and this honor roll must be given a prominent place in that memorial. By all means, the name of every individual who ever enrolled in Tech and later served in any capacity in the armed services should be on that honor roll and we want to hold the list open until each name is inscribed thereon with the proper recognition of war service.

The alumni association would like

Alumni Fund Is Only Solicitation

No Membership Dues To Be Assessed

WITH revival and reorganization of the Texas Tech Alumni association, the employment of a permanent executive secretary, the publication of an alumni news and the establishment of an alumni development fund, a responsibility is placed on the shoulders of every Tech man and woman wherever he or she may be. The fund seeks an annual gift from every Tech man and woman.

There will be no dues for the alumni association and every man or woman who has attended Tech in the past is automatically a member but membership carries the responsibility of supporting the organization in a financial way so that its work may be carried on from year to year.

Annual Gifts Urged

The alumni development fund will be the only financial solicitation of the alumni association. Every Tech man and woman is asked to make an annual gift of whatever amount he or she can—but by all means something. The amount of your gift is confidential. Each contributor, and class standings, will be listed in the fund report in the alumni news, which will be sent to all contributors, free of charge.

The Alumni fund will have various objectives throughout the years ahead. The first objective now, of necessity, is to see that the association is properly reorganized and a permanent secretary employed and that funds are maintained for issues of a regular publication that will go to every contributor to the alumni fund.

Can Be Dedicated

In these days of high income taxes, you are allowed certain deductions for contributions to charitable and educational institutions. Your contribution to the Tech Alumni fund is eligible for these deductions. Why not make yours now.

Sponsorship of some suitable memorial project as a fitting tribute to the men and women who have served and particularly to those who have given their lives in World War II will be one of the early projects of the association and it will take thousands of dollars even to begin organization of a campaign for a project of the type Tech should have.

Memorial Is Planned

This memorial, we believe, in the form of a magnificent stadium, a spacious gymnasium, student union building, auditorium or some other similar structure, is the greatest

Jessie Bateman resigned her position as supervisory teacher of homemaking at Lubbock High school, which she had held for the past several years. She also had served as assistant editor of the Texas Home Economics Association, News Letter for the past two years. Mrs. Bateman has gone to Brownsville, Texas, to join her husband.

Roxanna Ruth Ford, home management instructor and supervisor of student teaching at W.T.S.T.C., Canyon, Texas, and who received her master's degree from Tech in August 1940 has accepted a fellowship to do advanced work at Iowa State college.

Mrs. Harlan Dowell (Doris Nell Tippet) is now living at 37 Upland Drive, Verona, New Jersey, and is teaching at East Orange, N. J. She has recently been appointed chairman of the student home economics club committee of the state of New Jersey.

Charlotte Ballow is now with the local housing authority in Texarkana, Texas.

Phyllis Drake, who received her masters degree from Tech in June 1943 has an interesting position as Junior Marketing Specialist, with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in St. Louis, Mo.

Mary Etta Vernon is the director of cafeteria service in the Orange Public schools, Orange, Texas. Mary Etta writes "we are serving approximately 3200 children in nine lunchrooms. Next week, another lunch room is being opened which will be open to several hundred more children. Maybe, we will reach the 4000 mark before school is out."

Helen Wiseman who received the masters degree in foods and nutrition from Tech in August 1944 is assistant research chemist at the University of Arizona, Tucson, Ariz.

Mrs. Elton Smith who will be remembered as Maurine Havis is living in Seattle, Wash. where her husband, also a Tech graduate is a Lt. (jg) in the Naval Reserves. Their address is 356-17th Ave., Seattle 22, Wash.

Mrs. Frank C. Jenkins (Dorothy McCuiston) Box 1469, Odessa, Texas, writes "I wish you could see our tiny daughter, Barbara Vee. It has been several years since I lived in the home management house and helped take care of little Ronnie, but I am surprised how much I remember and how much that experience is helping me now."

Rosella Romans Cook has an interesting position with Kraft Cheese Co., Sulphur Springs, Texas. She states that she is the company's only "woman field-man" and says "this is a new work arising from the need to improve the quality of milk used in cheese making. It occurred to the manager of the milk procurement department of the Southwest division of the company that a woman might succeed in this phase because women either do part or all of the dairying on most of our farms. I was gratified when they offered me the opportunity to try."

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy First Lieut. Emmett D. Whitis, Kemper, recently war awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in support of combat operations with the Fifth Army in Italy. Whitis, a company commander in an engineer combat battalion serving under Second Corps, received his decoration from Major General Geoffrey Keys, Second Corps Commander, at a ceremony in the field. The award citation related that Whitis made a personal reconnaissance of a road under enemy shell-fire and then supervised reconstruction of the road. His wife, Susan, lives at 1714 Kelly Avenue, Dallas, Texas. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Whitis live in Kemper. A brother, T. S. Whitis, resides at 1808 Ave. X, Lubbock. A student of petroleum engineering at Texas Tech before entering service, Whitis has been overseas more than 30 months. He was among the first troops to invade North Africa in November, 1942. He also participated in the invasion of Sicily.

Pfc. Edouard Blitz, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Blitz of the department of music, and former student at Tech, was a recent visitor on the campus. Edouard is one of five Texans playing in the Army Air Forces Orchestra under the direction of Felix Salatk. He is a violinist and for three years was guest conductor at Tech of "The Seven Last Words" production.

FIRST 20 YEARS—

though some of them were transferred. The other 202 were advanced, an estimated 190 of them in the upper classes. They came to Tech from 85 different colleges, 43 of them in Texas.

Schools in the state from which they transferred were: ACC, A&M, Austin college, Baylor college and Baylor U., Burleson, Clarendon, CIA, College of Marshall, Daniel Baker, Decatur Baptist, ETSTC, Emerson, Hillsboro Junior, Howard Payne, John Tarleton Agricultural, Kidd-Key, McMurry, NTAC, Polytechnic, NTSTC, Randolph, Rice, Rusk Junior, Sam Houston State Teachers, Schreiner Simmons, SMU, SWSTC, Southwestern, Stanford Junior, Stephen F. Austin, Sul Ross, Texas Military Institute, TCU, Texas university, TWC, Thorp Springs Christian, Trinity, Wayland, Wesley, WTSTC and Westminster college.

Out-of-state colleges and universities from which students came to swell the first year's enrollment were: the universities of Arizona, Arkansas, Kansas, California, Mississippi, Colorado, Illinois and Tennessee; Northeast Southeast, Central State and East Central State Teachers colleges of Oklahoma, Oklahoma A&M, Tulsa university and Murray State Agricultural of Oklahoma; New Mexico A&M, New Mexico Normal and Montezuma Baptist; Mountain Home Baptist and Arkansas Polytechnic; Bucknell, Carnegie Tech, Chicora College (S. C.), Columbia university, Cumberland, Georgia School of Technology, Hamilton Normal (Ontario); Indiana State Normal, Louisiana Polytechnic; Notre Dame, Tulane, University of Chicago, University of Los Angeles, Ward Belmont; Georgetown university and Immaculate seminary of Washington, D. C.; Rose Polytechnic (Ind.); St. Ignatius (Chicago); Sullins, Wentworth Military academy, Young Harris college (Ga.).

First Graduate In 1927

There were no graduating seniors that year, hence the first commencement exercises were held in May, 1927, for 14 seniors. The first graduate students were recorded in 1927-28 when there were 40 enrolled.

The divisions of agriculture and engineering, made up almost entirely of men, have been hardest hit by selective service. The division of agriculture started its existence with 81 students enrolled, increased to 107 the following year. By 1929-30 the enrollment was 205 and by 1935-36 was 316. In 1937-38 it went over the 400 mark, with 456 enrolled, and the following year it exceeded the 500 mark with 535. In 1939-40 it reached its all-time high with 571. Enrollment of women in agriculture has always been negligible. The first to enroll were in 1929-30 when three women filled out orange registration cards. The next year only one woman aggie was enrolled and the following year there were again three. This year there are four, with the total enrollment in agriculture 146, lowest since 1927-28.

Engineers Increase

Engineers the first year totalled 347, three of them women, and the next year increased to 386. The year 1927-28 showed a slight drop but in 1928-29 there were 428 engineers and in 1929-30, 496. The depression years affected enrollment adversely and it was not until 1936-37 that the engineering division showed a noticeable increase over the 1929-30 level, jumping that year to 605 from the previous year's 489. In 1937-38 engineering students numbered 791; in 1938-39, 896; and 1939-40 there were 956. The 1940-41 level dropped to 839, that of 1941-42 to 809. The following year a number of engineering students who had taken conditioning courses in arts and sciences registered as engineers, bringing the total up to 872. Eighteen women were registered as engineering students in 1934-35 and the number has increased yearly, until this year's enrollment of engineering women is 64 of the total 408 in the division.

Home economics enrollment has been least affected by the war, since its records show only one

Lt. Jim A. Hart Receives Bronze Star Medal Award

Crowell, First Lt. Jim A. Hart, 25th Division infantryman, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroic achievement near Saarlautern, Germany, Dec. 11. "Seeing a squad of Germans advancing on a house which commanded his company's flank, Hart raced the enemy to the building and won. Meeting the Germans with hand grenades and carbine fire, he killed three and captured the remaining seven.

He was wounded in Germany Dec. 6 and awarded the Purple Heart. He also holds the Combat Infantryman badge.

His father, A. S. Hart, who died in 1937, was for many years a druggist at Rockwood. His mother is a teacher in the public schools here.

Lt. Hart received his bachelor's degree in journalism from Texas Tech in August, 1934, and his master's degree in English in August, 1936.

First Son Of Graduate Is Awarded Scholarship

The first son of a graduate of Texas Technological college who married after the school opened, Hal McElyea, will enroll in Texas Tech this fall. He is the son of O. R. (Chick) McElyea of Dallas who graduated in 1934 with a B. S. degree in civil engineering.

McElyea married Dec. 28 after entering Tech in September of 1925, the year the college opened. A scholarship of $250 set up by the Texas Tech exes of Dallas has been awarded to Hal.

In a letter to Pres. W. M. Whyburn, the former Tech graduate says, "Hal, his mother and myself are very proud of this honor and feel it will mean more than just the $250. McElyea is an engineer with the Texas Highway department.

FIFTEENTH AAF IN ITALY

T-Sgt. Woodie H. Tudor, 22, son of Robert H. Tudor of 1402 Ave. U, Lubbock, Texas, has successfully flown 35 combat missions as radio-operator-gunner on an AAF Flying Fortress of the 15th Air force. Sgt. Tudor joined the AAF in April 1943, and attended gunnery school in Yuma, Ariz. He left the States for overseas duty in September last year and flew his first combat mission to Budapest on Sept. 17. He flew his 35th mission to Ruhland, Germany, March 23, and has been awarded the Air Medal with three bronze Oak Leaf clusters. He was graduated from Lubbock High school in 1940 and later attended Texas Tech. He was employed as a ginner in civilian life.

man enrolled in the division—during 1931-32 and again the next year. Beginning with 78 students, the division increased to 138 the following year and dropped to 132 in 1927-28. In 1928-29 enrollment was 180 and for each of the next two years, 239. In 1931-32 and '32-33, depression years, the enrollment of home economists dropped to 206, but began to increase again in 1933-34 to 241 and rose steadily to reach 485 in the peak year, 1939-40. Present enrollment is 415.

New Division

The commerce division began in 1942-43 with an enrollment of 587, 229 men and 358 women. The next year it dropped to 341, only 54 men and 287 women. This year it had 424 enrolled, 71 men and 353 women.

The division of arts and sciences, beginning in 1925 with 597 students, jumped to 904 in 1926-27; to 1,100 in 1927-28; 1,330 in 1928-29; 1,414 in 1929-30. The next two years showed a decline but in 1932-33 it was back up to 1,552, reaching a peak in 1940-41 with 2,262 enrolled. Introduction of the division of commerce in 1942-43 cut the arts and sciences registration from 2,088 in 1941-42 to 918 that year. The figure in this division for 1944-45 is 829.

These Men Have Made Supreme Sacrifice

IN THE list of names below you will find the names of former students of Texas Technological college who have given their lives in the defense of their country on the many battlefronts of the world in the present terrible conflict.

It is fitting that in this first edition of the Texas Tech Alumni News, a page be devoted to these noble heroes. The list is more than likely incomplete, as there are more, college officials are sure, who have not been reported who are listed among those killed in action and missing or prisoners of war.

This will be one of the objectives of the Alumni association—to see that a complete list of casualties is compiled and the names of all those boys who paid with their lives along with those who served in World war II are inscribed on some suitable memorial on the college campus.

If you know of a Tech man whose name should be added to this list, please send it to the Texas Tech Alumni News, box 96, Texas Tech Station, Lubbock, Texas, along with any other information available.

Alvis Tabor is teaching vocational agriculture at Paducah; he attended here last summer.

Nuel L. Moss writes from Germany "Anything you may read from time to time about Gestapo prisons for political prisoners does not have to be taken with a grain of salt. It was my platoon's misfortune to clear out a political prison in Wupertal. I've seen typical battlefield scenes several times but was never affected quite as much as by conditions found in that prison. Some women had been in solitary confinement for as long as two and one-half years, so you can imagine how they looked. We found torture rooms with complete equipment and well-worn from use. Others were still alive on one glass of water per day for only knows how long—they were more dead than alive. I only wish the members of the Conference at San Francisco could have seen that."

John H. Palm is keeping up his correspondence work in New Guinea.

Juanita Poole, secretary to the Dean of Agriculture for several years, is living in Houston, Texas

Marine Cpl. Hop Halsey Is Alumni Speaker

Marine Cpl. Hop Halsey, who is probably known to more Texas Tech alumni than the average former student, was principal speaker at the annual alumni banquet at Lubbock hotel, May 26.

Halsey, just back from 14 months service with the Marine Air Transport in the Pacific, related some of his experiences and told of Tech men he saw in the faroff places.

Cpl. Halsey is a former state representative from the 1189th district, and formerly operated Mark Halsey No. 2 drug store on the corner of Broadway and College avenue.

Mrs. Halsey is the former Harriet Roach, Tech student in the middle thirties. They have two children, Hop, jr., and Sudie.

Tech Administration Ready To Aid The Returning Veteran

Just as every person on the home-front is waiting and planning the return of "that man in uniform"—so is Texas Tech standing in readiness with a plan to help him meet the future well equipped.

Tech's plan, which comes under the GI Bill of Rights, (the government's promise of a new start for servicemen after the war) epitomizes the hopes and fears of millions of GI's who are wondering about demobilization day and what the nation plans to do for them.

May Attend School

The GI Bill of Rights provides that any man who is eligible in age and education, who has been in the service 90 days after September, 1940, and who has been honorably discharged, has a right to go to school. The government will pay each man $50 a month and his college expenses up to $500 a school year. Or, if he prefers vocational training, the government will pay for his tools and materials and give him $50 a month for a year of training.

The broad objective at Tech is to serve these men as they have served the nation—wholeheartedly and individually—so there will be no fundamental changes made in the curriculum. No short courses will be instigated nor no new study plans will be organized, because information received from these men and present thought trends indicate that each man will choose a regular graduate course.

Curriculum Not Tailored

A few of the major colleges are tailoring their curriculum to fit the individual needs of each returning veteran so he can prepare himself for his chosen career in the fastest possible time. Although this plan is serving as a model for the veteran programs of a score of other universities, Tech is not working toward this goal.

Of the 74 veterans of World War II now attending Tech, only one has requested a short course, radio, and he changed his mind, deciding to major in agriculture. All of these men are carrying a normal scholastic load (12 hours is required under the GI bill) and working toward a degree in their chosen field. Some of these ex-servicemen are former Tech students and are continuing their interrupted education, others are here for the first time, but all have the same purpose in mind.

This purpose, of preparing themselves for the future, is being carried out by 74 serious-minded individuals. They have adapted themselves remarkably well, college officials say, and they are setting a precedent in scholastic averages that younger students would do well to follow. Besides attending school regularly, some of these veterans are employed in part-time jobs.

Officials at Tech are preparing for the return of these men on the theory that fundamentally they are the same boys who went away. They realize of course, there will be some exceptions, but the majority of ex-servicemen don't want amateur psychiatry practiced on them and they would loathe to feel instructors and students were being overly-solicitous in "handling these changed men."

Want Familiar Routine

One ex-serviceman, now a Tech student, who served in the South Pacific told W. P. Clement, college registrar, that he had rejoiced because Tech had made no major changes. "When you are on a small stretch of land and have time to think, it's not the future you dream of so much, but the past and you remember things you loved," he said. "With me it was Tech I remembered mostly—because I was in school when I entered the service—and I didn't want it to change because I wanted familiar things when I returned home."

All these men have voiced the opinion of wanting to slip into a

All these men have voiced the opinion of wanting to slip into a familiar routine and make an effortless change back to civilian life. That's why Texas Tech plans to welcome these boys home naturally, as what they are, normal hu-

Fifty-Three Former Members Of Faculty Are In Armed Services

By GEM BOB CALLEY
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Among the millions of men serving in the armed forces and working in defense plants throughout the nation, Texas Tech is represented by 53 former instructors and professors.

Dr. Byron R. Abernathy, former government instructor, is now employed as regional director of wage stabilization with the National War Labor board in Dallas. Capt. Douglas William Alden, who is serving with the Army Air Forces in England, was a French instructor at Tech until 1942. Capt. Alden was stationed at Lubbock Army Air field before attending officer candidate school in Florida. He has served 15 months in England and has been recommended for the French Croix de Guerre for services rendered during the liberation of France.

Anderson At Kelly Field

First Lt. Huth Allen Anderson, former associate professor in economics and business administration, is stationed at Kelly field, San Antonio, where he is an AAF ground school instructor, in charge of scheduling classes. Ens. J. Bennett, USNR, former electrical engineering instructor, is serving at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass.

A former instructor in the department of government, Lt. Benjamin Bock, is now attending school of military government at the International house, Chicago, Ill. Lt. Bock expects to be in Allied territorial government work after victory.

Ens. A. C. Bowden, who taught in the division of engineering, is now serving at Vallejo, Calif. A former instructor in the English department, Capt. Truman Camp, is serving with the AAF at Pampa Army Air field. Capt. Camp is a ground school instructor.

Caviness And Cecil

Lt. Jamie Caviness, now serving in the personnel department of the Army Air corps in Boca Rica, was an instructor in animal husbandry. Maj. L. Moffitt Cecil, an instructor in the department of English at Tech, was a transportation officer at New Orleans before being assigned overseas duty.

Lloyd C. Christianson, assistant professor in the department of mathematics, is teaching Navy classes in math and drawing at Texas Christian university, Fort Worth. Joseph B. Cowan was a journalism assistant professor before joining the Office of War Information at Dallas. When this office was liquidated, Cowan purchased the newspaper at San Saba where he now resides.

James Hollie Cross, who received his BA and MA degrees at Tech and was then employed as physics instructor, is now instructing 17-year-old Army reservists at the University of Idaho. Former assistant to the director of athletics, Lt.

man beings and not strange neurotics who have to be pampered.

Housing Is Biggest Problem

College officials anticipate some problems with an estimated enrollment of 700 ex-servicemen after final victory is declared. However from experiences they have had with veterans, they foresee no major personal adjustment problems.

There's only one big problem Tech will have to work out in absorbing this influx of students. That is the housing facilities for these men and their wives, if married. The college has all other facilities available to take care of this additional enrollment and their main concern will be in providing adequate and desirable living quarters.

Officials of the college feel that residents of Lubbock will open their homes to these fighting men who are being given a chance to recapture the education they sacrificed to defend their country.

Gwynn "Mule" Dowell is serving somewhere in the Pacific.

Decker And Elle

First Lt. C. G. Decker, who was assistant professor of civil engineering, is serving with the sanitary corps at Camp Barkeley in Abilene. A horticulture instructor, Lt. George O. Elle, is stationed at Camp Howse where he is serving with an anti-aircraft artillery group.

Former assistant professor of animal husbandry Lt. (jg) Neil Casey Fine is serving with the Navy in the South Pacific. First Lt. Charles Christopher Galbraith, former assistant professor at chemistry, is now stationed at Foster field.

Gamel Missing In Action

John Worth Gamel has been listed as missing in action since the submarine USS Sculpin was reported lost. Gamel was an assistant professor of textile engineering. Maj. Waldo S. Glock, who was an associate professor of geology, is serving the Army in Washington, D. C.

Lt. Paul W. Gilbert, who is teaching meteorology at Urbana, Ill., for the Army Air Forces ground school, taught mathematics at Tech. Sgt. Alan M. F. Gunn, an associate professor of English, is serving with the Army in France where he is in educational work.

Capt. John Harding, former economics instructor, is attending a special administrators school for Army personnel at the University of Michigan where he is learning Japanese. After victory, Capt. Harding expects to serve with the occupational Army in the Pacific area.

Hazlewood And Heard

Capt. Emmett Allen Hazlewood, former associate professor of mathematics, is now teaching at the United States Military academy at West Point. M. E. Heard is now with the West Point Manufacturing Co., Westpoint, Ga. He was professor and former head of the textile engineering department.

Capt. Berl Huffman, former assistant football coach and basketball coach, is in charge of the physical training at Keesler field, Biloxi, Miss. He and Mrs. Huffman, the former Zella Riegel, instructor in physical education, have a young son, born since Huffman entered service.

Campus Beautification Program Is Under Way; Long Is Director

Seven Home Economics Graduates Are Overseas

Seven graduates of the division of Home Economics are now serving in the United States military services overseas.

Capt. Betty Savage is serving in the Quartermaster corps in New Guinea and Lt. Margaret Carter is in a general hospital on New Guinea.

Beauties Of Pacific Told

"... You have no idea how beautiful this South Pacific is with all its little gems of the ocean, but just don't ever let it get in your blood to come out here and see for yourself. Wonderful climate out here, but about all it is good for is to write words about and I never realized that the U.S.A. was such a wonderful place." Ens. W. Houston Schweitzer, USNR, F.P.O., San Francisco, Calif.

Billie Dean Wright, (M.E. '44) S 2-c is at present stationed at the Aerographer's School of the Lakehurst Naval Air Station, N. J., as a Navy weather observer.

Alpha M. ("Blondy") Wiggins, E. '35, has recently been appointed chief research engineer of the Electro-Voice Corporation in South Bend, Indiana. Prior to his association with this company, he was with RCA at Princeton, N. J. and the Seismic Exploration, Inc., at Houston, Texas. Wiggins attended the University of Texas where he received the M. S. in E. E. in 1936, and since then has done advanced work at Princeton University and is now studying at Notre Dame.

Miss Mozelle Dordyke, (C.A. '38) was married March 21st to Sgt. John Robert Pettie of the Marine Corps who has recently returned to the states following 27 months in the Pacific at various locations including Guam, Bougainville, New Zealand, Samoa, Guadalcanal and New Guinea. Miss Nordyke has taught art in the Lubbock Public Schools and at the time of her marriage was employed as a model and saleswoman in the Sport Shop of Neiman-Marcus at Dallas. The couple will be at home in Parris Island, S. C., where Sgt. Pettie is stationed at the present time.

Pfc. James Clarence Spencer (T.E. '36) was among the Americans liberated when our army entered Manila in February. He had been taken prisoner by the Japs at the fall of Manila. Following his graduation, Spencer was employed in the textile industry for a short time and then served in the Texas legislature as representative from Henderson county for two sessions.

Flight Officer Harold Humphries recently returned to his base at Hamilton Field, Calif., after visiting his wife and 11-months-old son and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Humphries, 2009 Broadway, F. O. Humphries is a pilot of a C54 in the Air Transport service and has been engaged in air evacuation from the South Pacific. He recently made flights to Guam, Saipan and the Philippines. Humphries, former manager of the Breedlove airport here while an instructor in the War Training service, received his ATC training at Long Beach, Calif., Douglas, Ariz., and Homestead, Fla. He has been in service since May, 1944. He has a brother, Capt. Horace Humphries, in the tank corps in Germany.

War has brought many changes to Texas Technological college. Returning veterans will be surprised to see the many improvements on the campus, but the most outstanding is the success of the beautification campaign.

Since the appointment of George Long as superintendent of grounds in September 1944, noted progress has been made. Long, who is a Tech graduate from the government department, inaugurated the program by plowing and clearing weeds from the campus, trimming trees and shrubs and planting new grass. New sidewalks have been laid around the Administration building and half way around the circle and a "keep off the grass" campaign was adopted by students.

New Drive Is Added

The drive between the Chemistry and Library building was dragged and smoothed and a new drive is being added by the Agriculture building. At the west side of the Press building, the road has been widened and a parking lot constructed.

Many exes probably remember the planting of trees on Arbor days, which has been a tradition since 1925 when Tech was founded, but the success of this program was slackened by the lack of proper watering facilities. At present a $2,000 watering system is being installed. Although it cannot be completed until valves and sprinklers are available again, it will be put into operation as soon as the new pipes are laid. Three areas of the campus, the circle in front of the Administration building, the boulevard entering the campus and the one between the circle and textile building, will be served by the watering system.

Students Give Funds

For the past few years, Techsians have donated fifty cents of their breakage deposit each semester to the beautification fund. Recently the Student Council voted to contribute $450 from this fund to pay for shrubbery which was planted on the campus. Paths for seven new sidewalks have been marked off across the circle. They extended from the men's dormitories to the Chemistry building; from the Engineering building to the center of the circle; from the Library to the Home Economics building; from the Ad building and museum to the center of the circle. Walks will be laid as soon as the price of cement goes down, according to Long. They will be staked off and elevated into paths until completed.

All the walks are six feet wide except the one leading from the Administration building to the center of the circle which is 12 feet in width. Each of these sidewalks meet in the circle and shrubbery has been planted where they meet. A Pfitzer juniper and nandenas are planted in each corner where the walks meet and a dwarf pyroantha along the walk itself. In this manner, shrubbery will grow around the entire center of the circle. The same pattern is carried out in the triangles around the circle.

Lawn Is To Be Started

Some of the campus improvements to be started in the near future include making a lawn which will extend from the Chemistry to the Agriculture building with a cactus bed east of the greenhouse. The space from the pavement west of the Home Economics building to Broadway and connecting Women's Dormitory No. 1 will be one continuous lawn, and another lawn will be from the men's dormitories leading to the museum. The center of the circle will be cemented as soon as the material is available and a plaza will be made with benches placed on it.

Trees have been reset along the street back of the Administration building and Long's plans for 1946 include planting an ash or sycamore tree between every two elm trees on College Avenue beginning at the stadium.

This program is largely the result of donations from Lubbock citizens and business firms. No state funds have been appropriated for the project and just usual college appropriations are being used. Very little money has been spent except for employment of laborers.

Reorganization—

to sponsor this memorial as well as other future projects of a similar nature on the campus and in order to do this has decided to create an Alumni Fund, to which regular donations may be made by all former students of the college. The Alumni Fund will be permanent and donations may be earmarked for any project the contributor wishes to aid on the campus.

The project might be a memorial stadium, a memorial gymnasium, a student union building, or any other similar worthwhile enterprise. Other projects which the association hopes to sponsor will be student loan funds, scholarships and fellowships for both undergraduates and graduates, research activities and programs which will promote the educational, recreational and social welfare of the college, its faculty and students.

"Alumni" Is Defined

The name Texas Tech Alumni association has been chosen as official for the organization. If you are not a graduate, you might be wondering whether you are an alumni or not. We went to Webster for a definition of the word and it says: "A person formerly a member of a college class which has graduated." So if, for instance, you were a freshman in Tech in 1930 and your class graduated in 1934, you are an alumnus or alumnae of Tech, regardless of whether or not you graduated with your class, and therefore you are an alumni of the college.

The Texas Tech Alumni News will be issued regularly at the rate of ten issues a year in the future and the amount of information and news sent into it by alumni will determine the size of the publication.

We Want Items

Any news about yourself, old classmates and friends, we want to use. Send it in. Above all, send us the names of any and all former students of Tech whom you know live in your town. We want to file them on the alumni roster and if there are duplications, that doesn't matter, we can detect them as they are prepared for the roster.

Address all communications to Texas Tech Alumni News, Box 96, Tech Station, Lubbock, Texas.

Joins Half-a-Hundred Club

"... I am now a member of the famous Half-a-Hundred club as I have completed my 50th combat mission against the enemy in the European theater, as a radio operator and waist gunner on a 15th AAF Liberator. Most of the targets were in Germany, Poland, and the Balkans with oil refineries high on the list. The trips were rather long, and at a high altitude which meant that we had to be on oxygen and wear electrically heated suits." T-Sgt. Charles Berthul Leuenberger (P.E. '40)

Pvt. Kenneth Burns of Plains was one of the 300 paratroopers who were in the Guard of Honor for the late President Franklin Roosevelt following his death at Warm Springs, Ga. The paratroopers, in training at Ft. Benning, Ga., were called out at 1 o'clock Friday morning, where they, with hundreds of other service men, lined the road from the Roosevelt summer home to the railroad station. Pvt. Burns is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hazel Burns of Plains. After his graduation from high school at Lovington, N. M., he was a student at Texas Tech. In the Army since last July, Pvt. Burns is taking his final training before overseas service.

Descending planes always have the right of way at an airport. The theory is that those on the ground can never know how important it is for a plane to effect a speedy landing.

Nearly one dollar's worth of electricity is consumed in swinging open the giant doors of the airship dock housing the U.S.S. Akron.

Already successful results of work done on the campus are evident, but Long is most concerned with getting the campus in condition so greater future plans can be made. He is hoping a professional landscaper will be brought to Tech to draw master plans for future improvements.

Resents Being Driven From Warm Bed

"... We participated in the pre-invasion bombing of the invasion coast while based in England and were later moved to France. I had a ringside seat on the second blitz of London, and was too near the main highway the V-1's used when they came over on their way to London. I have also been run out of bed into the cold, snowy night (this part I resent most of all) by a German plane strafing my quarters. As a matter of general interest, the 416th was the first Group to fly the A-20 in the ETO (The Douglas Havoc) and also the first of all bomb groups in the AAF use the A-26 (Invader) in combat." Lt. John Edwin Easterwood, C-o PM, New York, N. Y.

AN EIGHTH AIR FORCE BOMBER STATION, England—

With a combat career of more than 30 missions to his credit, 1st Lt. Richard V. Turnbough, 24-year-old Meadow, Tex., pilot of an Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress, has been awarded the fifth Oak Leaf cluster to the Air Medal for "meritorious achievement" during bombing attacks on Nazi military and industrial installations and in cooperation with Allied ground forces. Lt. Turnbough is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Turnbough of Meadow, Texas. A graduate of Meadow High school, he was a student of animal husbandry at Texas Tech before entering the Army Air forces in February, 1943. He received his pilots training and commission at Fort Sumner Air base, N. M., in March, 1944. The flier is a member of the 94th Bomb group which was cited by the President for its historic bombing of the Muhlembau aircraft plant at Brunswick, Germany. This group also participated in the Third Air Division England-to-Africa shuttle bombing of the Messerschmidt aircraft assembly plants at Regensburg, Germany in August, 1943 for which the entire division was awarded a Presidential citation.

Sgt. Clint Formby is X-ray technician at an Army hospital at Marseille, France. He entered service shortly after his father did and was stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., and at Memphis, Tenn., before going overseas in November. He received training as an X-ray technician at Memphis. He is a graduate of McAdoo High school and was a sophomore in Texas Technological college before entering military service. He was a member of Socii club in Tech.

Eighteen Members Of Original Tech Faculty Still On Campus

Eighteen members of the original faculty of Tech are on the campus among the members of a staff of approximately 175 for the long session, 1944-45.

President W. M. Whyburn was an associate professor of the original mathematics faculty when the college opened in the fall of 1925.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, a member of the first board of directors for Texas Technological college, and president from 1938 to 1944, was made president emeritus in September 1944 when Dr. Whyburn was inaugurated as fourth president of the college.

Miss West Librarian Emeritus

Of the deans here now, Dean A. H. Leidigh of the division of Agriculture; Miss Margaret W. Weeks, dean of Home Economics; Mrs. Mary W. Doak, dean of Women, and J. M. Gordon, dean of the division of Arts and Sciences, were at the first faculty meeting. Miss Elizabeth West, first librarian, and now librarian emeritus, is on the campus every day.

Faculty members who are on the staff this year and who started their departments at the opening of the fall session, 1925, are: W. L. Stangel, head of the department of animal husbandry; Mrs. Jonnie McCrery Michie, head of the department of foods and nutrition; Dr. R. A. Studhalter of the biology department; Dr. C. B. Qualia of foreign languages; Dr. Leroy T. Patton, head of the geology department; J. N. Michie, head of the department of mathematics; and Mrs. Johnnie Langford, head of physical education for women.

Dr. W. B. Gates, now head of the English department, and J. H. Murdough, head of the department of civil engineering, were among the original faculty. Other members now on the faculty who were here the first year are: Mrs. Eunice Gates, associate professor of foreign languages; George Smallwood, professor of English; Mrs. Hulda M. Marshall, assistant professor of chemistry; and C. D. Eaves, professor of history.

Although not members of the first faculty, the following people will be recognized as having been connected with the college for many years: W. P. Clement, registrar; James G. Allen, dean of men; W. T. Gaston, business manager; H. L. Kent, administrative assistant in the president's office, and Miss Emma Main, acting librarian.

Long Grounds Superintendent

J. H. Grimsley is now superintendent of buildings, and George Long, formerly in the purchasing office, is new superintendent of grounds. Mrs. Eleanor Chitwood, assistant dean of women; Seth T. Cummings, purchasing agent; Conner Cole of the bookstore; G. W. McCleary, auditor, and Hubert Burgess, assistant auditor, are on the staff for 1944-45.

J. H. Millikin is director of the Extension division since the retirement of J. F. McDonald, who is living in Oklahoma City.

There are several new members on the faculty this year, but the majority of the faculty for 1944-45 will be remembered as on the staff for several years. Approximately 100 persons have left the college since September 1941, some to go into other work, but a large number of these are in the armed services of the country.

In the division of Agriculture, E. L. McBride and M. B. Harrison are in the agricultural economics department. Ray L. Chappelle, head of agricultural education, also spends a lot of his time working with the vocational agriculture teachers in high schools.

Professors F. G. "Doc" Harbaugh, Ray C. Mowrey, and assistant professor J. D. Strickland are teaching in the department of animal husbandry this year.

K. M. Renner is head of the department of dairy manufactures. Laurence G. Harmon is associate professor and C. W. Denison is creamery superintendent and instructor in that department.

Dr. A. W. Young is head of the department of plant industry, and Dr. W. W. Yocum, H. P. Clay, Ernest Mader and Cecil Ayers are on the staff.

Engineers

Dean O. V. Adams, dean of Engineering, was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Science by the Colorado Agricultural and Mechanical College, April 1945.

F. A. Kleinschmidt, Robert Lockard, W. L. Bradshaw and Miss Edna Houghton make up the department of architecture and allied arts this year.

F. L. McRee, professor and E. V. Middleton, associate professor, are on the staff of the department of civil engineering with Professor J. H. Murdough as head.

Dr. A. G. Oberg is assistant professor of chemical engineering.

C. V. Bullen, head and professor of electrical engineering, W. F. Helwig and Willard F. Gray compose staff for that department this year.

In the department of engineering drawing and industrial engineering O. A. St. Clair is head and professor. Mrs. Margaret B. Atkinson, C. C. Perryman, and Carl W. Bechtold are teaching in this department.

H. F. "Pop" Godeke is professor and head of the department of mechanical engineering. J. C. Hardgrave is associate professor and in charge of the shops, and L. J. Powers is associate professor and Robert Newell, assistant professor.

L. E. Parsons, professor and acting head of the department of textile engineering, and Lloyd H. Jackson, associate professor, are the faculty for the textile department this year.

Home Economics

The staff in the division of Home Economics has grown from a beginning of three people, Miss Weeks, Mrs. Michie and Miss Dorothy McFarlane, to a present total of 20 members.

In the department of applied arts, Miss Martye Poindexter is head, Miss Elizabeth Hawley, assistant professor, and Miss Edith Coleman, instructor, are the other two members of the staff in this department.

Miss Sannie Callan, professor and head, and Miss Bernice Borgman, assistant professor, compose the staff of child development and family relations department.

Miss Mabel D. Erwin who is head of the department of clothing and textiles, joined the staff shortly after the opening of the college. Mrs. Edna Buster, associate professor of clothing returned to the college this year after a leave of absence. Mrs. Lila Kinchen and Miss Theodora Corey, a new member this spring, are the other faculty persons in the clothing department.

Besides Mrs. Michie in the department of foods and nutrition, are Miss Mayme Twyford, Dr. Mina Wolf Lamb, and Mrs. Anne Duke.

Miss Vivian Johnson, professor, is head of the department of home economics education. Miss Geraldine Clewell, associate professor, Miss Doris Nesbitt, assistant professor, and Mrs. Gladys Holden, instructor, are other members of the staff. Miss Clewell returned to the faculty this year after teaching three and one-half years at Montana State college.

Miss Frances Urban is assistant professor of home management, and is living in the home management house on the campus. Miss Mozelle Craddock, professor, is manager of the dormitories and teaches courses in institutional management.

There have been several changes in the arts and science faculty in the last three years, but a majority of the faculty who will be remembered from your classes are at present on the staff.

The biology department staff includes in addition to Dr. Studhalter, head, Mr. M. F. Landwer and Dr. Bessie League, associate professors; Dr. H. M. Hefley and D. R. Parker, instructors.

Dean of Graduate Division

Dr. R. C. Goodwin, who is the head of the chemistry and chemical engineering department, is also Dean of the Graduate Division. The chemistry staff consists of W. M. Craig, professor; W. M. Slagle, associate professor, Dr. Joe Dennis, assistant professor, O. C. Southall, and Mrs. H. M. Marshall, instructors.

Dr. R. E. Garlin became head of the department of education following the death of Dr. A. W. Evans in January 1943. Dr. Albert Barnett, who is professor of education, is also assistant dean of Arts and Sciences. D. D. Jackson is professor and head of the teacher placement bureau. Miss Bonnie K. Dyseret, Dr. Agnes True, Dr. L. B. Cooper and J. T. Shaver are associate professors in the department.

Professors in the department of English are Dr. W. B. Gates, James G. Allen, Mrs. Mary W. Doak, Dr. A. B. Cunningham, R. A. Mills, Dr. A. L. Strout, and George Smallwood. Miss Lucile Gill, Don Murphy and Miss Gussie Teague are associate professors of the English staff who have been here since the fall of 1926. Dr. A. F. Herr and Dr. Kathryn Haganir are assistant professors. Mrs. Olga M. Carter, Kline Nall and Dr. Eleanor Scott are other members of the English faculty.

Chinese Courses Offered

The persons in the department of foreign languages this year include, in addition to Dr. Qualia and Mrs. Gates, associate professor Carl Henninger, and assistant professors, A. B. Strehli, T. Earl Hamilton, and Mrs. Georgia Dingus. Dr. Edgar T. Ruff is again instructor in French after working two years in the censorship office at San Antonio. Dr. Bing-chung Ling, part-time professor, is teaching Chinese.

Drs. L. T. Patton, W. I. Robinson, M. A. Stainbrook, and R. G. Sidwell are members of the geology staff who are still here this year. Richmond Bronaugh, instructor, was added to the staff this fall.

In the government department, J. William Davis is professor and acting head. Dr. L. C. Riethmayer, associate professor returned to Tech last spring semester, after being with the Bureau of Census in Washington, D. C., for two years. Paul Castleberry, instructor in government, has been on the staff since 1943.

History department members this year are: Dr. W. C. Holden, head of the department, professors S. S. McKay, O. A. Kinchen, C. D. Eaves, and associate professor, Ernest Wallace.

Deans Extend Greetings To Texas Tech Alumni Engineers

"We hope that members of the alumni and ex-students of the division of Engineering will enjoy this publication which has been prepared for their benefit. To those of you serving your country in many parts of the world, we pray for a surcease from war and for your safe return. We shall especially cherish the day when we may welcome a considerable number of you back to the campus. Through this publication we wish to extend most sincere greetings to all alumni, ex-students, and friends of the Engineering division."

O. V. Adams,
Dean of Engineering.

Home Economics

"It is a very great pleasure to extend greetings and good wishes to the 668 home economics graduates of Texas Tech and to all former students. You are located in almost every state of the union and in many foreign countries.

It is with pride that we can state that at least eight of the graduates are serving with the Armed Forces. In addition, also, are many former students of whom we have no record.

The year 1944-45 finds our Division with a 33 per cent in enrollment over last year and with an earnest student body.

It has been a pleasure to receive letters from so many of you during the past year. We all look forward to the time when conditions permit reunions of groups of alumnae and former students as we have enjoyed in the past. In the meantime, letters and individual visits provide us with a valuable means of keeping in touch. An excellent habit to form is to write back to the college once a year giving us your address to that we may keep our alumnae file up to date.

The faculty of the division of home economics join with me in sending greetings and good wishes and assuring you that a very cordial welcome awaits each of you whenever you can return to the campus."

Cordially yours,
Margaret W. Weeks, dean
Division of Home Economics.

Arts, Science

As dean of the division of Arts and Sciences, it gives me real pleasure to extend greetings to the alumni and all other ex-students of the college. I wonder if you realize that this year closes one-fifth of a century for Texas Technological college, 1925 to 1945. I know we all are proud of the record of the college thus far. With the accomplishments in twenty years as a foundation we ought to launch out constructively for bigger and better things in the immediate future, and I could wish in all sincerity that your group may at this meeting lay plans that will challenge the ex-students as well as the faculty of the college and the president and board of directors. If there is anything specifically that I can do to forward this worthy enterprise I shall count it a joy to be advised."

Sincerely yours,
James M. Gordon.

Commerce

"Our first concern is in the speedy return of our men and women who are in the service. May God protect you, bless you, and bring you back to your friends and dear ones. We at the college hope for a happy reunion soon.

We are trying to anticipate your needs, and we are preparing to better serve you. Those who will return to the college will some new courses and some new teachers. Those who have graduated will find, from time to time, possible advantage resulting from keeping us informed as to your location, address, and present interests. We have calls for people with your training. We may aid you in securing a promotion.

The staff of the division of Commerce sends you greetings."

Sincerely,
J. O. Ellsworth, dean
Division of Commerce

Agriculture

"All of the teachers and staff in the division of Agriculture send greetings to all former students wherever you may be. We have enjoyed so much your letters, your visits, and your personal messages. Will these brief words serve as our answer? We appreciate you and your wonderful work and service. You are missed. May you make progress and prosper. If you are in the armed services we hope you may return safe and well. With our best wishes, we are

Sincerely yours,
A. H. Leidigh, dean, and Agricultural faculty."
